University of Wisconsin Oshkosh: Ours is a comprehensive public university with unique ties to both urban and rural environments. We have a tradition of strong programs in the arts and sciences and in select professional career fields. Our faculty and staff are united in believing that the fundamental purpose of a university education is to develop thinking men and women capable of independent growth and adaptation in all roles of life. Accordingly, our select mission as a university is:

- To acquire, preserve, and disseminate knowledge.
- To provide undergraduate course-work designed to develop learning proficiencies and to cultivate the values and perspectives of educated citizens—in particular, respect for human dignity and cultural diversity, commitment to personal excellence, and the habit of taking thought.

North Dakota State University affirms its heritage as North Dakota's land-grant institution. Through its colleges, station and extension, NDSU, as a member of North Dakota University System, provides instruction, research and public service. NDSU educates and serves the people of North Dakota, the region, the nation and the international community by discovering, communicating, applying and preserving knowledge. The university fosters the personal growth of individuals by creating an environment which nurtures intellectual, social and cultural development. It offers academic and professional programs, which lead to degrees from the baccalaureate through the doctorate. NDSU assumes a coordinating role in the North Dakota University System for academic computing and economic development. The university provides information systems necessary to accomplish its mission.

The University of Vermont is a distinguished institution with a proud history, based on a strong intellectual community and a concern for the quality of life in the communities that it serves. UVM combines the intellectual resources and breadth of opportunity of a research university with the close student-teacher interactions typical of a liberal education, and supports its mission through the effective use of technology. Our aspirations reflect our values, which include:

- A commitment to rigorous intellectual inquiry and critical thinking;
- An abiding concern for the environment, health, and liberal education;
- A strong commitment to diversity in the student body, the faculty and staff, and the curriculum;
- A willingness to address difficult societal issues with honesty, civility, and practicality. We are a community that values respect, integrity, innovation, openness, justice, and responsibility and promotes the intellectual capacity to engage in ethical decision making; and
- An appreciation of our commitment to the State of Vermont and our land-grant heritage.

The central purpose of the University of Virginia is to enrich the mind by stimulating and sustaining a spirit of free inquiry directed to understanding the nature of the universe and the role of mankind in it. Activities designed to quicken, discipline, and enlarge the intellectual and creative capacities, as well as the aesthetic and ethical awareness, of the members of the University and to record, preserve, and disseminate the results of intellectual discovery and creative endeavor serve this purpose. In fulfilling it, the University places the highest priority on achieving eminence as a center of higher learning.
